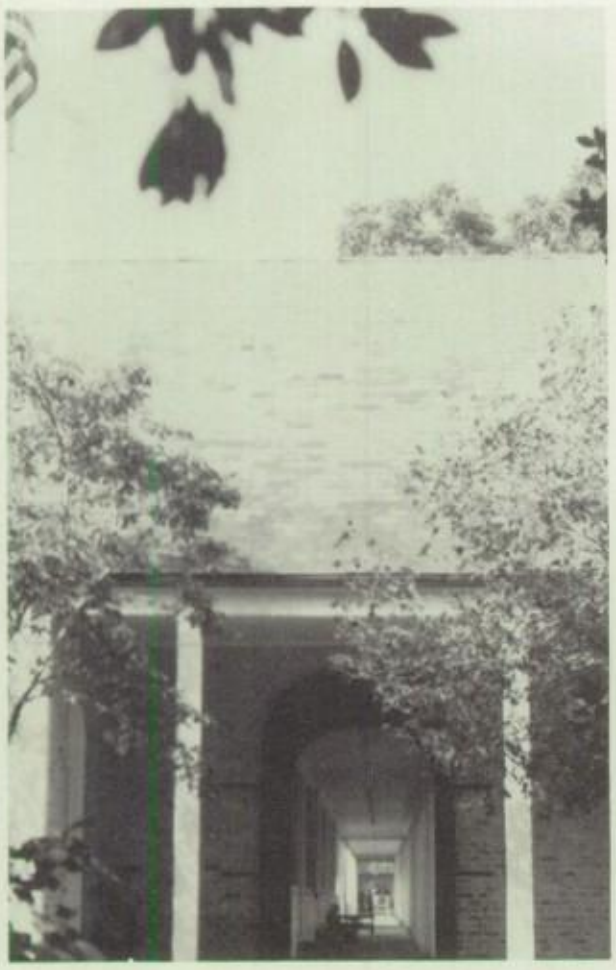
Crossroads . . .



Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same.

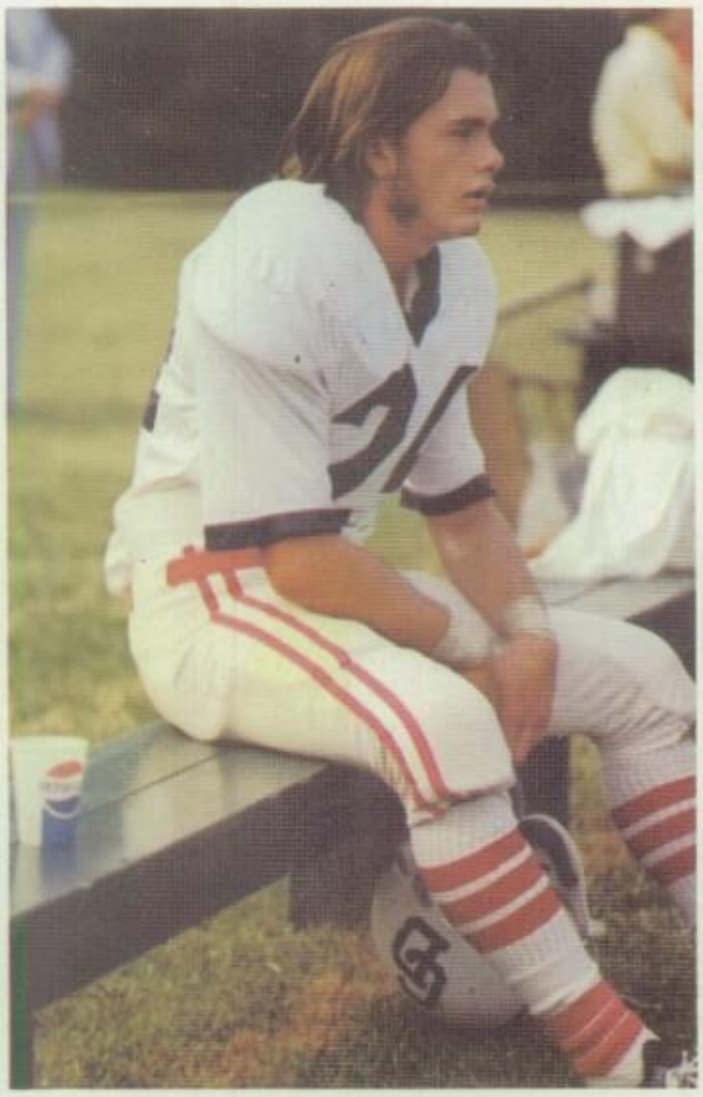
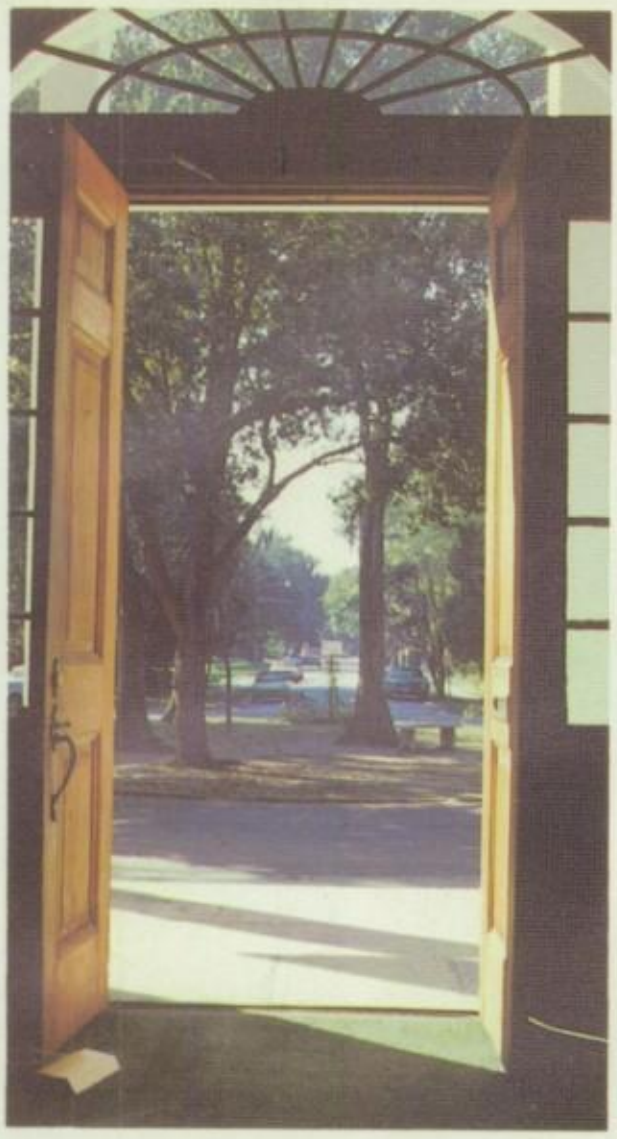
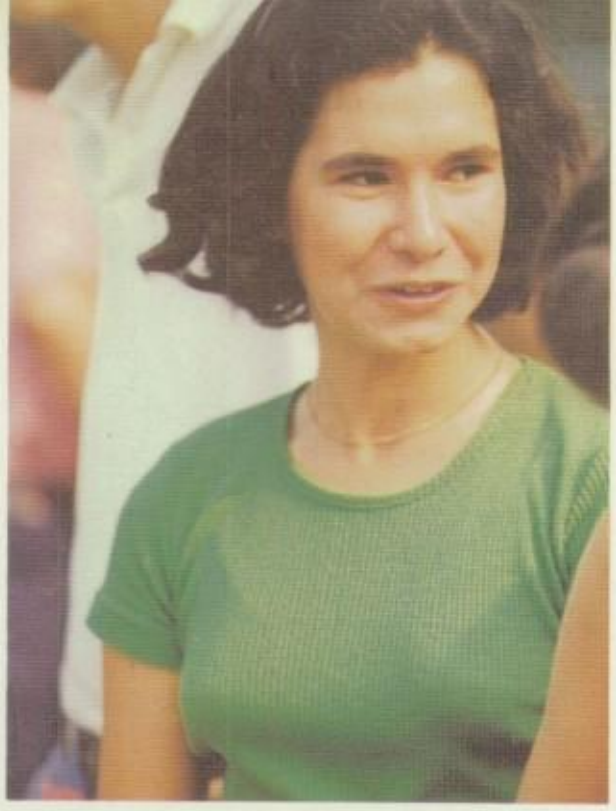
STOP

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.







I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I - I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

"It's coming from so far away,
It's hard to say for sure
Whether what I hear is music or the wind
Through an open door
There's a fire high in the empty sky where the sound meet the shore
There's a long distance loneliness
Rolling out over the desert floor
And the years I spent lost in the mystery fall away leaving only the sound of a drum like a part of me
It speaks to the heart of me forget what life used to be you are what you choose to be It's whatever it is you see that life will become."

"My general overall goal, looking from the top down, involves an increase in sanity, happiness, and really beautiful creations in the world of art and artists and also in the universe of people in general - the bettering of conditions. I observe that as art is created cleanly and sanely, and is communicated to people, the general emotional tone level of a whole culture can raise up. It's a very positive thing in any culture to have good creations happening."

I turned to speak to God
about the world's despair;
But to make bad matters
worse
I found God wasn't there.

God turned to speak to me
(Don't anybody laugh)
God found I wasn't there -
At least not over half.

Robert Frost

Ain't it funny that the way you feel, shows on your face And no matter, how you try to hide it'll state your case
Now a frown will bring your Spirits down to the ground
And never let you see, the Good things all around - Every time we seem to let
Our feelings show, Our luck
Run out and the Wind
Won't blow.

EXIT

We are riding on a railroad singing someone else's song
We are standing by the crossroads take a side and step along
We are sailing away on a river to the sea
Maybe you and me will meet again
